

5 Ways Tech Can Make Social Distancing Easier

A man with a beard, wearing a dark polo shirt and brown pants, is sitting on a blue armchair. He is looking at a silver laptop on his lap. In the foreground, there is a glass of orange juice on a table. The background is a bright, modern interior with large windows.

COVID-19 has disrupted our lives in ways that we never anticipated. Fortunately, tech offers ways to maintain some semblance of the lives we're used to. We've compiled a list of technology tools and articles to help you adapt to our current way of living.
